Crew operate turnaround flights (with no inbound passengers)

On condition of any of the following, crew who have served on a turnaround passenger flight will not be deemed to have stayed in any port(s) outside Hong Kong (and will not be subject to the self-isolation arrangement upon arrival in Hong Kong before entering the local community), if the crew member concerned:

- i.) Did NOT leave the aircraft during stopover at any port(s) outside Hong Kong throughout a duty flight, or;
- ii.) Only temporarily left the aircraft for necessary technical and operational tasks, and remained at the airside of the airport concerned with no direct physical contact with local ground staff during stopover at any port(s) outside Hong Kong throughout a duty flight.

Nevertheless, turnaround passenger flights between Hong Kong and any foreign port(s) outside China may be performed ONLY on the condition that there will be no inbound passengers, in order for the air crew concerned to be deemed as turnaround crew not subject to the self-isolation arrangement upon arrival in Hong Kong.

The operator should declare on a letter of certification (Template) that the crew members concerned have NOT left the aircraft during stopover at any foreign port(s) outside China throughout a duty flight and the flight the crew operated was a passenger flight with no inbound passengers. The air crew concerned will be subject to the "Test and Hold" arrangement, enhanced regular testing and Medical Surveillance upon arrival in Hong Kong. Without clear declaration or when there is doubt on travel history, the crew may be put under a more stringent measure.
